U. S. Nabs Five Top Russians

Action Hits Communists

NEW YORK — (INS) — Five officials of the Soviet trading corporation Amtorg were held in $15,000 bail each today in a new crackdown on communism in the U. S., which may have far-reaching repercussions here and abroad.

The men were arrested late yesterday after a federal grand jury in Washington indicted them and one other man for failing to register as agents of a foreign government.

The sixth official, Amtorg Vice-President Dimitri I. Bagrov, was reported to be in Russia. Those arrested are President Aleksei V. Zakharov, Vice President Vassili P. Rebrov, Treasurer Andreevitch Shevchenko, Secretary Alexander A. Ilischenko, and former Assistant Treasurer Gennadi N. Ogloblin.

Amtorg has about 50 other employes in this country but the government apparently contemplated no immediate action against them.

MOSCOW SILENT

There was no immediate reaction from Moscow on the arrests but retaliatory action against U. S. businessmen or official representatives in Russia was anticipated. Previously when the U. S. has moved against Soviet diplomats the Russinas have retaliated in kind.

The Amtorg officials were not accused of espionage but were charged with collecting information, disbursion money and otherwise acting as an arm of the Soviet government in the U. S.

Vladamir Bazykin, Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington, immediately protested the arrests to the State department, pointing out that the men were in this country on diplomatic passports. He claimed diplomatic immunity for them.

The six men indicted face fines of up to $10,000 and five years imprisonment under the foreign agents registration act of 1938 as amended in 1924.

Two Killed In Escape

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Five Arizona desperadoes smashed out of the midtown, fifth-floor county jail early today, and two fell dead under a blast of gunfire before they could get out of the courthouse.

At least one of the prisoners was killed by a crippled night watchman whom they had disturbed reading in a ground floor record room.

The watchman, Tom Stowe, may have shot the second, but so many sheriff's deputies were firing by that time no one could be sure who hit him.

Two of the jailbreakers were captured on a stairway between the second and third floors. The fifth, Jack L. Tatum, 26, crawled out of a courtroom window and got away.

A deputy sheriff was shot in the mouth by one of the prisoners.

Killed were two Arizona prison pals who were charged with murder not long after release from the penitentiary. They were Edward Corcoran, 33, and Edward McEwen, 32. Both were awaiting trial.

Report Attack On Yugoslavs

LONDON — (INS) — Reuters dispatch lacking any further confirmation reported today that 500 cominform "partisans" from Romania occupied two Yugoslav villages Thursday night.

The dispatch quoted a Belgrade report to the German news agency DPA in Frankfurt.

It reported that the partisans used two tanks and an armored car and were later driven back by Yugoslav artillery fire which set several houses ablaze.

Immediately after Yugoslavia was elected to the United Nations Security council Thursday, there were rumors in London and elsewhere of some sort of an "invasion" of Yugoslavia. These were immediately and officially denied in Belgrade.

Judges Rule Out Falsies For Contest

TOWANDA, Pa. —(AP)— Fifty beauties were to amble before the judge's stand today in the "Miss Bradford County" beauty contest— and the judges announced they won't tolerate falsies.

It's part of the Pennsylvania Week program and the show will be put on with all the hoopla of an Atlantic City pageant.

Oh, yes, the contestants aren't girls.

But they're well-liked females in this dairy region; they're cows.

Steam Train Service Cut 25 Per Cent

Effect Locally Still In Doubt

Though passenger steam train service will be cut over the nation by 25 per cent Tuesday because of the coal strike, it has not yet been determined how Mansfield's service will be affected.

An order by the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday directed that railroads with 25 days' or less coal supply trim operations of their coalburning passenger trains by 25 per cent at midnight Tuesday.

The order is to be effective for two months unless rescinded.

For thousands of commuters, the order means they won't be able to ride their usual trains to work, and many will be crowded into standing room or change their mode of travel to auto or bus. But, the number who will feel the order's effect is comparatively small.

Although some railroads reported they won't have to curtail service when the order goes into effect, others, have already taken steps to cut their steam train service and conserve fuel.

The New York Central, which ordered 89 trains serving 11 states suspended after midnight Saturday, says the ICC order will halt at least 100 more. The carrier uses diesels on most of its main line trains, however.

A check of the Erie, B and O. and Pennsylvania railroad offices here today revealed that no cut orders had been received yet. Railroad officials said they would announce any changes as soon as they receive notification from their central offices.

However some New York Central and Pennsylvania trains will be curtailed in the state. Both railroads announced the cut in passenger service prior to the government order effective Tuesday.

New York Central trains Nos. 7 and 8, between Columbus and Toledo, and Nos. 44 and 45 between Columbus and Cleveland are to be eliminated Sunday.

Long Court Fight Looms Over Trial

NEW YORK — (INS) — A long and bitter battle in the nation's higher courts loomed today as a sequel to the conviction and sentencing of the U. S. communist party's high command.

Within an hour after 10 of the 11 defendants were sentenced to five years in prison and the eleventh to three years in prison—all were fined $10,000—defense attorneys filed notices of appeal.

The pleas go to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and from there to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Legal experts believe the appeals may take months or even years to decide.

Cleared of Charge

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — The only witchcraft case in California's history wound up last night with the complete exoneration of Mrs. Lorena M. Blackwell, attendant at the Sonoma state home for mentally ill.

Praises Band

One of the best compliments paid to the Mansfield band was by Pekoe Secrist of Wadsworth, former drummer with Ted Fiorito and Dick Jergens.

"Musically, Mansfield is better than Massillon's famous band, Massillon, of course, is tops in shows."

JOY ON THE TYGER BENCH—As Jack Bargaheiser leaped high into the air to snag what proved to be the final touchdown of the Mansfield-Massillon game last night, the Tyger bench went wild. The Tyger players display mingled emotions above, some still wearing a look of anxiety that developed as Don Cline faded back for the pass, others certain he would catch it. Augie Morningstar, Tyger coach, was in the midst of a typical coaching move, trying to shove the ball over the goal line by sheer concentration. Ned Deimer, 34, forgets all about the rain as he sheds the rain cape and gets ready to join the leaping gridder in the center. The Tygers dulled a lot of the glamor added to Massillon's fighting team by magazine and newspaper publicity. (News-Journal photo by James Switzer.)

Rate Protest Due Oct. 28

Case In Hands Of Accountants

The city must file a formal protest with the Ohio Public Utilities commission by Oct. 28 if it wishes to present a case against the Mansfield Telephone company's application for a rate increase, a PUC spokesman said yesterday.

City council has acted on legislation authorizing the employment of Woodward and Company, engineers and accountants, to prepare the city's case, but if a formal protest isn't filed before next Friday the city will not be permitted to present a case, the PUC spokesman said.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said he has written the PUC informing it that the city had hired Woodward and Company to represent the city in the rates case.

"The PUC file on the Mansfield Telephone company applications includes notations that the city is protesting the application," Kalbfleisch said.

The city received its copy of the PUC secretary's report Sept. 28. After receipt of the report, the city is allowed 30 days in which to file a formal protest.

6,000 Greet Them At Park

Tygers' Welcome Home Rocks City

By PHIL DEMPSEY

Mansfield "blew its top" last night.

In an overwhelming exhibition of football spirit and enthusiasm unequalled in Mansfield's history, more than 6,000 delirious, wild, football-crazy Tyger fans jammed Central park to welcome home a team which had whipped Massillon for the first time in 40 years.

Four thousand persons thronged excitedly about the square and another 2,000 paraded around in cars five abreast for more than two hours, awaiting the team.

The excitement and noise were so great that many persons got out of bed and were seen in bedroom slippers and hurriedly-donned clothes joining the crowd and being infected with the enthusiasm.

The courthouse shook with the blare of the horns, sirens and whistles as car after car circled the square. One ancient convertible carried two large highway signs, confiscated along the way home, reading, Mansfield 16, Massillon 12.

Even the bewildered truck drivers driving through Mansfield added their bit with loud blares of their air horns.

High school students took the park benches and lined them up beside the stoplight on the square at Park avenue east and stood on them, cheering and yelling for two hours. They were directed by an enthusiastic rooter perched atop the light.

Three different times a great roar rose from the crowd as it surged down Park avenue east to greet the football bus only to find that it wasn't the team. As a result, buses going to Cincinnati and Columbus received a surprised welcome to Mansfield.

Frost Due After Rain

The frost may be on the pumpkin tonight in the Mansfield area, the weatherman warned today. He said the interior and western portions of the state may see some frost spots tonight or tomorrow, but the frost will not be heavy.

The warning came as a cool air mass with rain in its wake swept southeastward across the state today, dousing the lake region this morning and heading for the southeast corner this afternoon.

Heavy winds and rain swept Mansfield last night, but only .27 of an inch of rainfall was recorded in the 24 hours ended at 7:30 a. m. today.

A brisk wind continued to blow today, although skies were mostly clear and sunny. The temperature at 10:30 a. m. was only 50 degrees, the same as the low mark recorded at 9:30 a. m.

Today's temperature was a decided contrast to yesterday when a high of 73 was recorded at 12:30 p. m.

The week end weather will be more normal—cooler, that is. It will be clear and cooler tonight. Sunday will be fair and cool with lowest temperatures about 40. It will be fair Monday with scattered frost likely, but milder, in the afternoon.

Fund Upped By $6,105

Chest Pledges Reach $64,128

Today's total in the Community Chest drive reached $64,128 as the drive progressed steadily toward the goal of $141,663 which officials hope to attain by next Thursday when the campaign ends.

The total today was $6,105 more than yesterday's figure as blue stars went up at campaign headquarters opposite the teams which have attained or exceeded their goals.

Another Mansfield industry joined those which have reached their goal when the Gorman-Rupp company today pledged its entire quota of $960.

Three teams in the public service division reported over their quota solicitations today. One was Team 6, made up of teachers at Brinkerhoff school, whose captain, C. C. Secrist, reported $77 on a quota of $55. Team 12, of Prospect school, captained by Hobart Robinson, reported $52 on a quota of $48, and Team 11, of Newman school, captained by Robert O. Hartmann, raised $60 on a quota of $59.

Secrist reported that 89 per cent of the Brinkerhoff pupils have contributed, raising $60.38.

The financial division reported more than 50 per cent of its goal with $3,859 on a quota of $6,600.

Co-chairmen Marshall Seybold and Roy Waxler of Industrial B reported $23,865 on a quota of $36,530; and co-chairmen Robert Myers and Howard Richards of Industrial B, $15,840 on a quota of $35,335.

Of the total reported today the Feathers, headed by Orlo Smith, had turned in $36,383, and the Stars, headed by Robert Salsbury, $27,745.

U. S. Delaying Coal Parleys

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The government planned today to delay any move in the coal strike on the theory that the steel walkout must be settled first.

That was the word from federal officials as hopes for early settlement of the deadlocks in two key industries remained dim.

The officials said the decision to delay action on coal was behind the announcement by Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching that he has called no meeting of the coal operators and the miners.

Ching issued an emphatic denial to published reports that such a parley would be held in Washington Monday.

Drop Tigers First Time In 40 Years

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

MASSILLON—A fighting, aggressive bunch of youngsters representing Mansfield Senior high school last night re-wrote Tyger football history by thoroughly defeating Massillon's state champions, 16 to 12, before a rain-soaked crowd of 19,733 including 6,000 Mansfielders.

Never before in 40 years and 17 games of feudin' had a Mansfield gridiron team been able to surge to victory over a Washington high school football aggregation. But last night the hard-charging Tygers did it!

Time and time again the trim Bengal forwards fought the Massillons off their feet with a great display of football ability. In fact, the play of the Mansfield aggregation was so stupendous throughout the last half that the Washington high lads reeled groggily many times after trying to stop the spirited Tygers.

Almost over-looked in the glory of that important first victory over a Massillon team was the Tygers' undisputed perch on top of the strong Ohio Scholastic conference. Mansfield has won three league games to lead Canton McKinley by a half-game in the league race and needs only a victory over Toledo Waite to clinch a share of the championship.

Although beaten, Massillon still has a great team and the battle for the 1949 mythical state crown looms as quite a thriller down to the final gun. Canton, Massillon, Mansfield and possibly Lakewood now rate as the logical teams to take the crown won last year by Massillon.

Mansfield unveiled its potent passing arm in the fourth quarter to come from behind to snatch the victory from the Massillons. Don Cline, the classy little quarterback, pitched 15 yards into the end zone to Jack Bargahiser, who made a sky-high catch, for the touchdown which won the game. The pass climaxed a 63-yard march.

Howie Tipper's "golden" toe split the uprights for the 14th point and to all intents and purposes the game was over although nine minutes and 12 seconds remained.

Both teams went wild in the closing minutes and Mansfield once marched down to the Tiger seven but lost the ball on downs. The following play Don James tried to pass but was chased behind the goal line and tackled by a host of Mansfield linemen for the safety which spelled the 16-12 victory.

Breaks played a big role in the game, nullifying many sparkling plays, but in the final analysis Mansfield made most of the breaks and won a well-deserved victory.

TYGERS SCORE FIRST

The Tygers scored first in the opening quarter when Capt. A. C. Jenkins hurdled over from the one-yard line. However, Massillon came steaming back to score two times in the second quarter to take the lead. Both times Tackle Jerry Krisher missed the extra point which might have

7,000 Ask Score

It may be hard to believe, but not everybody in Mansfield went to Massillon for the game last night. At least 7,000 calls were received at the News-Journal office during the evening by persons wanting to know the score. The calls were clocked at the rate of 42 per minute for a two hour period, making a total of 5040. The additional 2,000 were received before and after the two-hour period.

Homeward-Bound Crowd Happy But Quieter

By GAYLORD HAKE

Some 1,500 happy Mansfield football fans slumped into seats on two special trains at 11 p. m. yesterday and asked each other if it really happened.

The Tyger victory, hoped for but a little unexpected left the crowd stunned.

There was none of the whooping and hollering that turned the trains into roaring bedlams on the trip to Massillon.

Rather, Mansfielders relaxed in train seats and reconstructed some of the plays they had seen an hour earlier.

As it turned out many fans were just storing up energy for the rally that was to carry on in downtown Mansfield until 3 a. m.

Fans found it is a tough job carrying a paper cup full of "pop" down the aisle of a bouncing train without spilling most of it.

There were 6,240 bottles of iced drinks on the two trains, most of which was sold. In addition to the drinks, there were 1,620 sandwiches.

Many Mansfielders brought a lunch along on the trains.

Mansfielders on Train No. 2, when they visited the "pop stand," found Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison passing out the cold drinks.

Mansfield police were well represented on Train No. 2. Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab, Capt. Paul Whipp and Patrolman Charles Condon jr., were on the train.

On the way to Massillon one fan remarked: "I hope they are as happy coming back as they are now." They were, but it was a different kind of happiness.

On the trip to the game there was so much noise, and so many

Tyger Band Comes Back Jubilant, Voiceless

By BARBARA LEE FREESE
(Member Mansfield Tyger Band)

We left Mansfield at approximately 2:30 p. m. armed with the cowbells, Mansfield Tyger pennants, and Tyger Booster stickers, plastered all over the bus windows.

We "woke up" Dalton, Mifflin, and Hayesville with cheers. In Wooster, we stopped for fifteen minutes and practically monopolized the drinking fountains, the dining room, and the newsstand. The people enjoyed it.

Very few people know that the Massillon Swing Band and the Mansfield Tyger Marching Band exchange banquets. This year they had the banquet at the American Legion hall. We renewed old acquaintances and met new friends among the band members.

Everyone enjoyed the meal very much and we wish to express our appreciation to the Massillon band for making it possible.

After the dinner, Orin Ford, Massillon director, introduced J. Merton Holcombe, our director, who in turn introduced our officers. They are: James Cook, captain; Elaine Hartley, secretary; Barbara Miller, librarian; Charles Jones, first lieutenant; Barbara Freese, second lieutenant; Charles Green, top sergeant; Paul Light, Del Harris, Elliott Stiles, Robert Rice, John Damron, and Robert Hempfield, sergeants; Junior Wynne, head drum-major; Shirly Lay, head Tygerette; and Joan Hallabrin, assistant head Tygerette.

He then turned the program back to Ford, who introduced his officers. After a few short

Huge Find Bared Near Arctic Circle

Magic Cry of 'Gold' Echoes In Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (UP)— Gold fever hit Alaska again today as prospectors reported finding nuggets "the size of peas" in the territory's biggest strike since the Klondike rush of 50 years ago.

The claim, kept secret until the news leaked out yesterday, was discovered this week in the Yukon river a bare nine miles south of the Arctic circle.

Within 24 hours, a tent city comprised of 50 whites and natives sprung up by the claim. Prospectors here and at Circle City, 160 miles north of here and 26 miles east of the strike site, were lined up to buy all available equipment and supplies.

Bush pilots started shuttling prospectors and equipment to the scene. An emergency landing strip was cleared a short distance from the river.

Old timers said the quality and type of the newly-found lode was as high, if not higher, than the gold found in Alaska's first big strike at the turn of the century.

Clifton Carroll, fishtrap operator, started the excitement when he burst into the U. S. commissioner's office at Circle City, clutching nuggets the size of peas and a small bag of flaky dust. He said he saw the glitter in a fish box on a trap.

Prospectors said the quality of the gold indicated the deposit was a large one, and were likening it to the "days of '98" when a dead moose gave George Carmack the idea of trying to pan for the yellow metal.

Carmack, "Skookum Jim" Mason and Tagish Charlie killed a moose and in the process of dragging it back to their campfire, exposed gold in the bed of Rabbit creek on the Klondike river. Carmack washed some of the gravel and the resulting publicity given the discovery started the historical "Klondike days."

Good Food For Basic Breakfasts

Did you eat breakfast this morning? And if you did, was it coffee and a roll, or was it a basic, adequate breakfast? Surveys show that too few people do eat adequate breakfasts — if any.

And these brisk fall mornings — do they make you want to do big things? Scientific studies show that without breakfast you don't work at top notch efficiency. So, to fulfill your ambitions, you'll need a good breakfast

With a good breakfast, you are more likely to work better, to think and act more quickly, and to be calmer and steadier while you work, during the late morning hours

A basic breakfast containing these five foods — fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter is a good start for your busy day.

For these crisp fall mornings, try a new kind of cereal griddlecake for an appetite teaser. Plan a menu of chilled tomato juice, bowls of crisp corn cereal with milk, bran griddlecakes (to be served in place of bread) and milk for the children, coffee for adults. Maple syrup, cranberry or blueberry sauce, or your favorite jam — and don't forget butter — will be good choices for topping the griddlecakes. Here's the easy, tested recipe·

BRAN GRIDDLECAKES

¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
¾ cup whole bran
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar

Scald milk; pour over butter and whole bran; let stand until whole bran is soft, stirring occasionally. Add egg and mix thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar; add liquid mixture and stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients. Bake on a hot, lightly greased griddle. YIELD: 18 small cakes.

milled around the buses to meet them. Approaching the square the buses discharged the band which struck up a lively marching tune, circled the square with several hundred followers, and then disappeared.

As more joined the crowd, police had to re-route all traffic Every available inch was packed with people, eager and excited.

Finally, at 2:30 a. m., lookouts posted on the courthouse steps and on the window ledges of the First Methodist church sighted the long-awaited bus carrying the victorious team.

As one man, the gigantic crowd swarmed down Park avenue east. Coach Augie Morningstar, leaning out of the window of the bus, was greeted with an ovation that easily might have been heard in unhappy Massillon.

Leading the bus to the square, the throng formed an aisle to the bandstand for the coaches and team.

As Morningstar emerged from the bus, he was overwhelmed. "What a reception," was all he could mutter as he stared unbelievingly at the huge crowd.

Charles Marchant, whose defensive line-backing during the game was a bulwark against Massillon, said, "It makes me feel proud to play for Mansfield" as he stepped down from the bus.

FEELS GREAT

Quarterback Don Cline, whose passing arm accounted for the game-clinching touchdown, stated, "This makes a fellow feel great to come home to a reception such as this. It was the crowd's cheering and enthusiasm that won the game for us."

"It's the best thing I've ever seen," was all big A. C. Jenkins could say.

On the bandstand, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn announced, "This is a fitting tribute to a great team."

Morningstar, when introduced to the thousands who nearly uprooted the bandstand, stated in an already-hoarse voice, "Yours is the greatest reception and thanks a coach or team ever had."

Tremendous cheers went up from the crowd as the individual coaches and players were shown to them. There were tears in big Esker Jordon's eyes. Guard Howard Tipper exclaimed, "It's the biggest thrill of my life."

In just 15 minutes after the team arrived, it was all over. The crowd, suddenly feeling sleepy, trudged homeward in every direction but not without a final noisy blare of horns and vocal chords which carried with them to every point of the city, ending the greatest mark of tribute to the greatest football team they've seen.

Mr. Gobbler will score a second triumph on the day after Thanksgiving if he is dressed up with new trimmings. Turkey Pie is the answer—a nourishing main dish, good for either lunch or dinner. Try this delicious combination of chopped turkey and vegetables in a smooth cream sauce, topped with a crisp cheese crust.

1-3 cup butter

Serve Apple Goodies Halloween

Halloween and National Apple Week (October 29-November 5) just naturally go together. For what would Hallowe'en be without apples — apples bobbing in a tub of water to duck for, apples swinging on a string to bite at, and apples in a bowl to munch on. Yes, when witches ride and garden gate hinges give forth eerie sounds, apples are at their best.

So it's time to make all the apple goodies — pies, sauce and cakes, time to bake apples, fry apple slices and make raw apple salads. And don't overlook all the good things that can be made with aplesauce, especially these Applesauce Refrigerator Cookies. You can never have too many cookies on Hallowe'en when small fry ring doorbells to make collections.

These cookies are a cinch to make — especially in a well-equipped kitchen. The applesauce is a matter of turning the handle of a food mill, the flour can so quickly be sifted with a junior miss one-cup sifter right into the measuring cup and then all the dry ingredients sifted together in the big sister 5-cup sifter (these two sister sifters are conveniently sold together in one package), and the shortening is easily creamed with a handy six-fingered fork. All these utensils are inexpensive and their uses are inexhaustible — and they're all available at any store that sells housewares.

APPLESAUCE COOKIES

1½ cups shortening
2 cups sugar
1 egg, beaten
4½ to 5 cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 cup thick unsweetened applesauce.
1 cup chopped nuts.

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add egg. Sift together flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and cloves. Fold gradually into creamed mixture alternately with applesauce. Add nuts. Mix into stiff dough. Form into 2 rolls. Wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator. Slice thin. Bake on greased cookie sheet in moderate oven (375 degree F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Yields 14 dozen cookies.

Shelby Rail Service Hit By Shortages

NYC To Suspend 2 Trains Today

SHELBY — The curtailment of passenger train service on the New York Central railroad may effect two daily trains in Shelby.

Although no official announcement has been made, T. E. Van Cleve, agent for the NYC, said yesterday that consideration was being given to the curtailment.

Effected would be the 9:51 for Cleveland and the 7:25 for Columbus. Trains involved are 444 and 445.

The New York Central announced yesterday that two trains would be suspended at midnight Saturday operating through Fremont leaving that city without passenger rail transportation.

The curtailment is the result of the coal shortage.

speeches, we left for the football stadium.

We went on first for flag-raising with the Massillon Swing Band following us. Holcombe directed us in the "Star Spangled Banner." We left the field first. By this time, it had started to rain harder. Luckily we had our raincoats along.

After two quarters of exciting football, we started our halftime show. We came on the field in divided ranks. Meeting in the center, we turned and played a fanfare. We formed an eight front to the tune of that old favorite, "Tiger Rag." We did a dance to "Pretty Baby." Following this we performed our "Blues" number for Massillon.

Forming another eight front we played "Alma Mater" and left the field.

After the game, we loaded on the buses and started home, victorious, jubilant, and voiceless. The popular slogan was, "Massillon State Champs, We Saw."

We yelled all the way home, but Shirly Oldfield managed to sleep. How, no one knows.

When we reached the square in Mansfield, we unloaded and marched around it playing "Tiger Rag" and "Fight the Team." The band members, had never before witnessed anything as spectacular as seeing hundreds of adults in an hysterical frenzy. It was the most thrilling experience of the whole band trip.

Fans Happy But Quieter On Way Home

different kinds of noise, it all blended into a terrific din

There were groups giving out with Mansfield cheers, others singing football songs. Every kind of noise making device imaginable was going at full blast, and other fans were just plain yelling.

The favorite cheer among the high school youngsters seemed to be: "We're from Mansfield, — couldn't be prouder — Ask us again — We'll yell it louder."

And, there were snake lines traveling through the cars shouting the "Mansfield — Beat Massillon"

One girl walking through the bouncing cars remarked "this is just like going through a fun house."

Among the many good luck charms was the wishbone of a chicken which graced the lapel of a well dressed fan on Train No 1.

Massillon fans took a terrific razzing from Mansfield train riders as they made their way through the parking lot to the tracks.

One of the best was "Massillon took a Holiday." The Massillon half-time show built around the article appearing in the publication.

Gus Hall's Communist Speech In Mansfield Is Remembered

GUS HALL, of Cleveland, sentenced yesterday to five years imprisonment and fined $10,000, along with other top U. S. communists, was in Mansfield a little more than a year ago.

He came here to make a speech over Mansfield radio station WMAN, to beat the drums for communist ideology and for the Progressive party's presidential candidate, Henry A. Wallace.

Hall, chairman of the Communist party in Ohio, and the 10 others convicted with him in New York were sentenced to prison for advocating and teaching the forcible overthrow of the government of the United States. The conviction came under provisions of the Smith Act of 1940, which makes it a felony to teach "the duty, necessity, desirability or propriety of overthrowing or destroying any government in the United States by force or violence." Also outlawed by the Smith Act is CONSPIRACY to teach or advocate forcible overthrow of our government or to aid in disseminating such sentiments.

When he paid Mansfield a visit on Sept. 7, 1948, Hall said that the Ohio Communist party secretary experienced no difficulty in buying time for him on WMAN.

In his broadcast, Hall dwelt at length on what he claimed were the aims and aspirations of the Communist party in America. A federal court now has found that these aims included forcible overthrow of the government.

He decried "the sea of slander against the communists that washes every household in the form of the daily newspaper." (This is one newspaper that has no objection to being assailed by Hall).

Another quotation from Hall's WMAN speech:

"The common people of Russia came into power—the peasants, the toilers, the soldiers—and they proceeded as best they could to establish a government of the people. Let me say to you, they have written a chapter of glorious history."

Defending himself on the government's indictment, Hall asserted in his radio speech here:

"The FBI, the political police of America, have knocked on my door. If I am convicted, and mark this well, they will be enabled to knock on your door and any door."

WITH HALL now sentenced by a federal court for his activities and propagandizing, it might be well for Mansfielders to reflect on the strange way in which the doings of Hall and some of his past associates have touched this city.

About a year and a half ago, Edward Lamb, a Toledo lawyer who wrote a book extolling the virtues of communism, received a license to build a radio station in Mansfield. After a vigorous campaign by The News-Journal, however, in which Lamb's unsavory connections with red "party line" groups and organizations, his authorship of the book "The Planned Economy in Soviet Russia," and many other phases of his history were brought out, Lamb gave up his radio plans in Mansfield.

What has this to do with Hall? Just this: In 1937, Hall and the same Edward Lamb sat together in the Trumbull county common pleas court in Warren, Ohio, where Lamb served as defense attorney for Hall, who was tried there and convicted on charges growing out of disorders in the bloody steel strike of that day. Hall was fined $500.

Through the years, while Gus Hall has been running his course of fomenting strike violence to the detriment of both workers and industry, while he was using every means at his disposal, including radio station WMAN, to spread communist doctrines and to gnaw at the very foundations of our government—

And while Edward Lamb was with one hand defending Gus Hall and others accused of similar offenses while receiving in his other hand wholesale grants of radio station licenses from the Federal Communications commission—

THE POSITION OF THE NEWS-JOURNAL IN THESE MATTERS HAS BEEN QUITE CLEAR AND REMAINS SPREAD IRREVOCABLY UPON THE RECORD.

Gus Hall HAD to use the radio to disseminate his propaganda in Mansfield. He could not buy space in The News-Journal at any price, and he knew it. This newspaper never has supported or aided communism. It believes in democracy and it does not believe in the overthrow of the United States government. The News-Journal refuses to aid in such programs, and furthermore, it refuses to assist others who do help in such enterprises. It will continue to maintain this stand.

Clyde Moore, in the Ohio State Journal, presents the kindly thought: "Anyhow, those Bowling Green college students who went on strike were not altogether unreasonable in their demands. They didn't ask for pensions, or a diploma-and-a-half for overtime."

Claude Callan has also noticed: "We people are easily spoilt. For a time we will go after anything you will give us free of charge, but pretty soon we want it delivered."

Anyhow, those Mansfield high school young folks have been getting considerable practice in spelling that rather catchy word, "Massillon."

Now that they have been sentenced, it may be assumed those communists will develop a pen-shun plan of their own.

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—this is a season of more than ordinary traffic danger.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Washington Calling

From Inside Norway

By MARQUIS CHILDS

(Marquis Childs, noted commentator on international affairs, is in Norway on the first leg of an extensive European tour to study and appraise news trends, both political and economic. His analyses and impressions will be reflected in his daily column of which this is the first.)

OSLO, Norway — Once again there is dramatic proff that communism cannot win free elections in a free democracy.

In the election just held here the Norwegian people have ism. It is one of the most striking demonstrations since the end of the war of the failure of the Communist party to win adherents in an open contest, with the right to use every device of press and radio to appeal to the people. The number of communists in parliament was reduced from 11 to one.

Even allowing for Norway's system of representation, which penalizes cities in favor of small communities. It is a remarkable outcome in a country with a long tradition of radicalism.

Pravda undoubtedly will scream about American imperialism and the bloody opression of American cossacks. But while Marshall Plan aid was a vital factor in holding the economic line, this was in no sense a bought vote. Norwegians are far too independent for that.

The rejection of communism here came as a result of the communist coup in Czechoslovakia and the gradual realization of what it has meant for Norway and every other free country. Up until the Czechoslovak tragedy the belief had persisted that the communists were just another party. Four years ago they received 12 percent of the total vote and under a fairer electoral system should have had not 11 but 17 seats out of the 150 in parliament.

To judge by American standards, the election campaign was extraordinarily quiet. Yet nearly 90 percent of the eligible voters cast ballots in the first national election in four years.

Similarity Observed.

IN MANY respects the election followed a pattern that is becoming increasingly familiar throughout the western world. It may be taken as a kind of curtain raiser for the British elections.

As in Britain, the Labor party here has been coping with hidden inflation and the devastating consequences of the war. At the same time, the Labor government, whose majority of one is now substantially increased, has been pushing reforms long advocated by the party and trade unions that are the backbone of the party.

Among these reforms are three-week, paid vacations for all workers, including domestic servants and farm workers. A law provides a 48-hour week for farm laborers with overtime for work beyond the 48 hours. Because of the acute housing shortage and high cost of construction, all real estate transactions are rigidly controlled.

The parties of the political right, led by the conservatives, have sharply attacked the Labor government, charging regulation for the sake of regulation and lowered production as a result of their reforms.

Premier Einar Gerhardsen and hard-working underpaid members of his government were surprised by the victory. The observer had the feeling that they might even have been relieved if the voters had turned them out and put the heavy responsibility on others.

Gerhardsen, in a moderate statement, promised there would be no nationalization in the next four years, but said that a government commission would study the advisability of nationalizing banks and insurance companies, with the voters to decide at the next election whether that should be done.

There is one thing America's economic assistance has unquestionably done. It has bought the time in which free citizens have come to learn the meaning of communism — and that is supremely important.

About That Tax Boost

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — President Truman said he's going to ask Congress to raise taxes when it returns in January, 1950.

But—the deadline for paying in full the tax you owe on your 1949 income doesn't arrive until March 15, 1950.

So, if Congress listens to Mr. Truman, does this mean your 1949 tax may go up before you pay it in full next March?

Hardly. The chances against that happening seem about 1,000,000-to-one.

If Congress raises taxes next year at all, it almost certainly will be on your 1950 income, not on that for 1949.

In the first place, early this year Mr. Truman asked Congress for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost in 1949. Congress ignored him.

It may ignore him again in 1950. But suppose in January Congress follows the president's request and considers a tax increase.

Just considering a tax boost will take many weeks or months: hearings, arguments, research by the experts to figure how much higher tax is really needed, lengthy debates in House and Senate and so on.

Both Houses have to approve before there can be any new law raising taxes. And the two Houses seldom act at the same time on anything. Usually they act on the same bill weeks or months apart.

Who Should Pay More?

IN ASKING for the tax increase this year, Mr. Truman wanted most of it to come by increasing corporation taxes, not income taxes.

He may ask for the same kind of boost next year. The Congress will have to decide whether it wants to sock corporations or individuals, or sock anyone.

Why the tax boost anyway? Why does Mr. Truman keep harping on that?

Government expenses are greater than the money it's collecting in taxes to meet those expenses. So Mr. Truman wants taxes raised until the government can take in more than it has to spend.

What's happening now—government spending beyond its means—is called deficit financing or deficit spending.

When that occurs the government has to borrow money—for instance from banks, by selling bonds—to make up the difference between the money it spends and the taxes it collects.

All this increases the public debt which is now about $255,000,000,000.

Mr. Truman argues we'd be in better shape to meet our expenses now if the 80th Congress—controlled by the Republicans—hadn't cut taxes a couple of years ago.

But the present 1st Congress—controlled by his Democrats—didn't follow his request to boost taxes this year.

So now for months we'll all get our ears bent by charges and counter-charges such as these:

If Mr. Truman's administration would cut down expenses, we wouldn't need a tax increase;

Mr. Truman's administration can't help the expenses, because such a huge part of them go into foreign aid and military preparedness.

Dave Boone Says:

DR. ED NOURSE, head man of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, has thrown in the towel. He had no skill in humpty-dumpty bookkeeping, so he felt pretty well out of the picture.

"I am uneasy," he says, "when I see farmers demanding high prices while the government piles up huge surpluses and pays subsidies out of deficits. I am not happy when I see the government slipping back into deficits as a way of life."

It evidently is a case of "Good night, Nourse!"

Summary of Week's Happenings

World Keeps Tab On Communist Trial

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

DIPLOMATIC capitals around the globe have followed closely the trial, conviction and sentencing of 11 leaders of the American Communist party for criminal conspiracy against the government of the United States. Interest in the procedure has been keen in western Europe, particularly, where small but tightly knit communist minorities are a constant threat to coalition governments.

Foreign observers will keep close check on developments, pending the final verdict on appeal to the Supreme Court.

Longest in History.

The trial was one of the longest criminal trials in American history. It lasted just four days less than nine months. It was characterzed by tactics of delay, obstruction and disorder, resulting in jail sentences for contempt, after the trial's close, of all five counsel for the defense.

Judge Harold R. Medina in his charge to the jury pointed out that the Communist party, as such, was not on trial. The 11 communist leaders were tried under a provision of the Smith Act which makes it illegal for individuals to conspire to advocate or teach the overthrow of the government by force.

The jury deliberated seven hours. The jury foreman, Mrs. Thelma Dial, a Negro housewife, said: "We find the defendants each and every one guilty."

In his charge to the jury, Judge Medina declared constitutionality of the Smith Act was no concern of theirs. That question of law will have to be decided by the Supreme Court.

The Question of Law.

The issue the Supreme Court will have to settle is whether the Smith Act, applied to the communists as members of a recognized political party, abridges constitutional guarantees of free speech.

Only two top leaders of the "Politburo" of the American Communist party remain at liberty. They are William Z. Foster, 68, national chairman, indicted but too ill of heart disease to stand tral, and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, named to the board after the other leaders had been indicted.

At Home

Political Warm-Up

Republicans patently intend to make what they call the Truman administration's trend toward a "labor-socialist government" the basic issue in the 1950 congressional campaign.

A preview of that natonwide political struggle can be obtained this fall by studying New York where a hot fight for a U. S. Senate seat is being waged by John Foster Dulles, Republican incumbent, and Herbert H. Lehman, Democratic - Liberal candidate.

The political chips are down and observers across the nation are keeping a close watch on the statewide fight. Interest within the state is high, too, as evidenced by registration of several hundred thousand more voters than in other off-year elections.

Pentagon Battle.

The battle of the Pentagon has reached new intensity. The Air Force and the Army got its chance this week before the House armed services committee to reply to bitter charges that a clique of strategists at the Pentagon was crippling the Navy and imperiling national defense.

The Navy barrage of criticism had been as devastating as an illustrious line of admirals, past and present, could deliver in almost two weeks of testimony.

New High In Housing.

The nation's building industry began construction of 100,000 homes in September — 22 per cent higher than the same month's totals a year ago.

The September total was only 300 homes shy of the postwar peak set in May, 1948. It is especially notable, says the Bureau of Labor Statistics, because normally at this season building starts decline in anticipation of bad buildng weather ahead.

The 1949 building pattern differs widely from last year's. Last year housing starts declined steadily from May on; this year has seen an unbroken, month-by month rise since January.

July and August also were record breakers. As a result, the first nine months of 1949 have contributed a total of 743,000 new permanent homes and apartments. Farm homes are not included in the BLS survey.

One-Room Schools.

The little red schoolhouse is disappearing from the national scene but, says the U. S. Office of Education, it is not going fast enough.

Thirty years ago there were 200,000 one-teacher schools; today there are less than 80,000 Even so, 45 per cent of all schools in the United States are still of the one-teacher type.

Dr. Walter H. Gaumnitz, federal specialist in small and rural high schools, says, in its day, the one-room schoolhouse served the nation very well. It brought the three Rs to every community, however isolated, and it served as a community center.

The trend, particularly in the last two decades, has been to consolidate rural districts, bringing in pupils by bus.

Calls It Mass Hysteria.

America is suffering a wave of mass hysteria over Communism, says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn).

Addressing 3,500 New York State school teachers last week in Albany, Sen. Humphrey declared that people instigating this mass hysteria actually are striking out against any manifestation of independent, creative thought.

"These Commies are just a nuisance, like fleas on a dog," he said, adding:

"We see evidence of this witch hunting in all sorts of loyalty investigations, investigations of teachers, attempts to purge schools and to censor schoolbooks. It is an insult to the American people to tell them a handful of zealots are capable of turning America topsy-turvy."

Quotes

Russell Janney, New York, who after seven months as juror in the Communist trial, got another summons for jury duty: "Enough is enough."

Morris Sayre, chairman of the board of the National Association of Manufacturers: "America is gradually coming out of the ether administered by political quacks. The welfare state, with its planned economy, is simply the imprisonment of a whole nation."

Down Honey Creek Way

Of Asia and Arizona

By LOIS ADAMS BYERS

TWO WORTHWHILE publications have come to us here, this past week. The first, Asia Calling, is a "twin magazine" printed in English and Chinese, to build friendship between the youth of America and the Orient. Published monthly, except July and August, by the American-Oriental Friendship Association, Inc., 1128-16th St., Santa Monica, California. ($2 per year.)

Contributions to the magazine are not paid for. Writers and artists contribute their talent to the cause of world friendship and peace. Pearl S. Buck heads the list of contributors.

In this, the October issue, editor Lorena M. Carter has a vignette "The Man Behind"; Lin Uy, brother of Lin Yu Tang, comments on Old Chinese Myths and Pre-literate History, giving examples of Chinese myths that parallel modern astronomy and science; Geraldine Fitch has a piece about Life in Korea; a continued story by Shan Mei-ling has a Bamboo Sprout for its main character; Dorothy Lewis tells about radio programs of Korea.

On page 16 I was stopped! It was written in Chinese. But a pen-and-ink sketch of the Statue of Liberty against the New York skyline spoke to any American, even before one noticed, in a box, this quotation with the Chinese translation below it: "We have got to learn much more about ourselves and other people and they have got to learn about us, if we are to make progress in improving human relations"—Gen. Dwight E. Eisenhower.

ARIZONA HIGHWAYS, published monthly by the Arizona Highway department, is one of the most charming periodicals I have ever enjoyed. Its home address is Phoenix, Arizona ($3 per year).

It breathes out a spirit of bigness and adventuresome beauty. The photography is artful, the color illustrations are superlative.

It makes you want to go and stay awhile in Arizona! Come to think of it, of course that's what they're aiming at—what a practical job of hitching one's wagon to a star!

Let me quote from an editorial: "Today the desert came alive! It turned a soft, delicate green almost before my eyes, and the mountain back of the house took a purple tinge instead of its usual pink. . .Spring anywhere is a poem. Here it is dramatic, rather than lyric. . . the sunshine enveloping the desert, the air is crystal pure, the sunrises are vivid, the sunsets lingering and indescribable.

Moonlight, like sunshine, seeps into the soul. Poetry is that which lifts a weary man from the dusty or muddy road to the mountain. .it is the magnet ffrom the Infinite, lifting man beyond himself. . .Even the least of us is a poet unaware. In the great cities or the little towns or even in the ordinary countryside, one may not be cognizant of this, but in Arizona, one knows!"

(It is true in Ohio, too. Thank you, Arizona.)

Timely Editorial

Seeing Is Believing.

Cong. Carroll D. Kearns, Pennsylvania Republican, has introduced a resolution for an inspection of Ft. Knox, Ky. He wants to find out whether all those billions in gold are really there in government vaults as claimed.

Kearns, a skeptical fellow, says he hasn't seen the gold and he hasn't been able to discover anybody else who has. The lawmaker does not make clear, however, exactly how wide his contacts are among the guards and vaultkeepers at Ft. Knox.

There are possible drawbacks to this inguiry. If a congressional committee goes down and finds the gold is there after all, it'll come back and spread the word.

And how will an economy drive get anywhere with those lawmakers seeing big gold spots before their eyes? —Cleveland Press.

As Cerf Tells It

The widow of Will Rogers notes in her memoirs that Will, Junior, never could learn to tuck in his shirt-tails when he was a youngster of ten. "Pleading and punishment got me nowhere," she recalls, "but I finally hit upon a scheme that cured him overnight. I sewed an edging of lace around the bottom of his shirts."

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

GOV. BOWLES wants a steel mill for Connecticut and it shouldn't be hard to get one. . . . There are dozens not in use right now.

Seems only yesterday Pherocious Phil was demanding more steel mills and Harry was promising the government would build 10 of them. . . . Ah those dear delightful campaign days.

Anyway opportunity never was greater in America. . . . With every worker now guaranteed 75 cents an hour, every worker also is guaranteed the pleasure of paying an income tax.

* * *

What a thrill that will be to people who never have been able to make quite enough for the treasury to cut into.

The 75 cent figure was no accident by the way. . . . It was set so that people who work 40 hours can make four dollars more than the people who aren't working at all.

The next fight will be to make unemployment compensation a little more attractive before everybody ruins it by going to work.

Writer Discusses Life In the City of 'Hubbub-On-the-Hudson'

NEW YORK—The reason I know that New York City is a wonderful place to make a living is that I live here.

And, brother, my living comes to me every day on a platter if I want to eat off a platter.

That means 102 press agents would be glad to buy me a glamorous luncheon if I would only listen to what a wonderful world-shaking product or personality they are merchandising.

And, of course, any opportunist can eat 100 lunches. But only a man of character can eat 102. I am a man of character—with dessert.

My trouble is that I am a pushover for a man with a message — having delivered telegrams as a boy myself. But the minute a man tells me how to save America, I take his stirring story into my soul, open my mouth—and yawn.

Never mind America—save me!

A dozen years of living in this citadel of democracy have convinced me that is a brave man indeed who has only one bathroom. He is either running for Congress—or lives in an old-fashioned, walk-up apartment. A showoff!

Here they don't measure a successful man by his muscle or how much the bureau of internal revenue accuses him of. They just count his bathrooms. . . "Three bathrooms . . .four bathrooms . . .five bathrooms. . ."

After you belong to ten bathrooms you can meet John D. Rockefeller jr., and say, "Hello, Jack!". . .and start trading the address of your plumbers. Then you have achieved the pipeline of greatness.

Another way to be sure you are in the swim is to have your picture taken with a long-haired, droopy-nosed debutante with an ashtray from the Stork Club in the foreground.

As long as you put the ash tray in the right place, you won't lack the debutante. Social engineering in Manhattan is toujours on the ready.

In fact this town is soo fast that a man is afraid to yawn—for fear that someone will put a plug in his mouth. (Typical pplug: Bing Crosby hates sin and drinks Moca Mola.)

Everywhere the wildness gathers—the hysteria of having the name in print. Such as "Sam Goldgin said the other day, 'Look at the dawn—it's dusk like another morning.' "

This appears in a number of newspapers and twelve envious press agents call to congratulate the lucky fellow who thought it up.

He takes a two-month vacation-and asks to be raised to the $400 a week bracket. Goldgin says no.

Here in hubbub-on-the-Hudson, the capital of nonsense, everything wears a faded tag. A man who lives in Brooklyn is a "bum," a man who works for a living is a "little fellow."

A dreary brunette who files a divorce suit against a weary manufacturer of cotton undershirts is immortalized: "Blonde ewe rams sheepish wool magnate."

Yes New York, fabulous New York. It is a city with a tag, too—a tag hard to live up to. Sometimes what happens here makes even the subway feel it ought to go underground—and come up in New Jersey.

Says Reds Scream About Hard Jail Beds, Still Deserve Them

Item: "Eleven convicted communists complain that the Federal detention cots are too hard and the food not good." . . . Comes the Revolution, they will take hard cots and like them!" as the late Willie Howard might parody it.

Maybe a jail sentence is just what they need. It might teach them how precious the liberty they'd take from all of you really is. . . . They are now screaming about political persecution. What was that in Czechoslovakia—a crime wave? . . . They all admitted they used assumed names. Prob'ly wish they could do time under an assumed number.

They couldn't get along with our capitalists; wonder how they'll get along with our criminals? . . . What a twist! They plotted to take over the whole nation and now have to be content with one of our jails.

Outlines Goodwill Program

Speaker Tells City Group How It Works

Nearly 25 representatives of Mansfield business and social agencies, churches and labor groups heard Dr. Frank Baker, head of Cleveland's Goodwill Industries, Inc., outline the work of the international organization at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the assembly room at DAV headquarters, 102½ North Main street.

Dr. Baker came to Mansfield at the request of Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of First Methodist church, who is serving as chairman of a committee investigating the possibilities of establishing a branch of Goodwill Industries, Inc., in Mansfield.

The organization which has branches in 96 cities throughout the United States as well as 13 foreign states, is operated to provide worthwhile occupation and recreational facilities for physically handicapped persons as well as aged persons, Dr. Baker explained.

He told of the Cleveland branch's activities which include the collection of clothing, rags, paper, furniture and many other items which are brought into the workrooms of the agency where they are repaired, cleaned and sold at a small cost. The money from these sales is used solely to pay the handicapped and aged workers of Goodwill Industries in Cleveland, and to provide recreation for the various men's and women's groups, Dr. Baker said.

Another meeting of the Employ the Handicapped committee, headed by Marshall R. Seybold has been scheduled for Nov. 18 at the Employment office, at which time plans for formulating a similar service for Mansfield will be discussed.

Serving with Rev. Stoneburner in planning Friday's meeting were Miss Frances Frangella, Richard L. Creveling and Norman W. Yarger.

Return Boy Murderer

Nairy Silent, Shows Remorse

James Nairy, remorseful and unhappy, has been returned to Cleveland to face first degree murder charges for the confessed slaying of his foster mother, Mrs. Iva Nairy, 56-year-old Cleveland bookkeeper and former school teacher.

The former ward of the Richland County Children's Home made an about-face from the talkative youth who quickly confessed the murder to St. Louis police upon capture there Wednesday morning. Young Nairy refused to talk to newsmen.

He admitted to St. Louis officials that he had bludgeoned the woman who adopted him when he was less than three years old, shot her five times with a .22 calibre pistol and fled in her car, heading toward Corpus Christi, Tex.

Cuyahoga county Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney ordered Nairy put in an individual cell, not a regular cell block. He was lodged on the fourth floor where earlier this year he had been a hall boy trustie while awaiting action on an auto theft charge.

Power Line Burns Man

ASHLAND — Seriously burned when his body struck a 34,000 volt electric line while he was working on a nearby pole, Harold Paul Kitzmiller, 23, of Flushing, Ohio, is in critical condition at Samaritan hospital today.

The accident occurred Friday while Kitzmiller, employed by the Day Zimmerman company, contractors for the Ohio Public Service company was working on the utility pole near the heavy voltage line, about 300 feet from the Brookside sub - station of the OPS.

According to witnesses, Kitzmiller was engaged in putting up the last span of wire for a new 132,000 volt line when the weight of the wire caused the pole to sway into the nearby high-voltage line.

Kitzmiller, who with his wife has been rooming at Wooster during his present employment, was rushed to Samaritan hospital for treatment.

Czechs Hurl 'Spy' Charge At America

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The United States today planned a blistering denial of Czechoslovak charges that five Americans ran a spy ring from the United States embassy in Prague.

The United States also was expected to demand the immediate release of one of the accused men, Samuel Meryn of New York, who was arrested by Czech police.

A long Czech note to the United States said Meryn, three other American men and Louise Schaffner of Lancaster, Pa.—described as "unusually attractive"—organized a spy network that reached far across Czechoslovakia.

The note said Czech members of the ring were equipped with radios, presumably to relay reports from distant parts of Czechoslovakia, which contains the largest known uranium deposits in the communist world.

American officials, scoffing at the charges, linked the latest cry of "spy" with a growing purge of Czech and Polish government officials.

The Czech note, however, reportedly went into considerable detail about how the alleged American spy ring worked. It said four former Czech cabinet members were involved.

NAMES SUSPECTS

In addition to Miss Schaffner and Meryn, the other Americans involved were Walter Birge, St. Louis; Isaac Patch, Gloucester, Mass.; and Spencer L. Taggart. All except Taggart were regular embassy employes.

The Czechs ordered Patch, an assistant attache at the Embassy, to leave Czechoslovakia within 24 hours.

The United States asked for an extension of this deadline, but when it was refused, arrange to have Patch leave Prague today.

The other Americans left before they were accused.

Shelby Whippets Dampen Bellevue, 28 to 12

Berry Leads Attack On Redmen Squad

By JOHN PATRICK

BELLEVUE —The elements and the Shelby Whippets teamed up to dampen Bellevue's Homecoming last night at Harmon field as the Whippets trounced the Redmen 28 to 12. Alternate rain and windy drizzle soaked spectators and homecoming participants.

Led by the smashing play of Jim Berry, 155-pound right halfback, the Whippets completely outplayed the Redmen.

Beautiful punts by Dick Utz kept the Redmen on the defensive during the first quarter and set up Shelby's first score in the second quarter as Terry Ruppert fumbled on the Bellevue 18. Shelby drove to the 12 but failed to make the necessary yardage On the first play Ruppert again fumbled the slippery ball and Shelby recovered.Runs by Clancy Fackler and Berry took the ball to the Bellvue five Fackler then slashed around right end for the first tally. Notacker's try for the extra point was good.

At this point Bellevue came to life and on two passes after the kickoff Sandy Nasonti to Hickman for 23 yards and Nasonti to Art Long for 10 yards placed the ball on the Shelby 12-yard stripe. Nasonti drove for 10 and two yards respectively to tally. Sam De Blase's attempt for the extra point was blocked. Score: Shelby 7, Bellevue 6.

DeBlase kicked to Jim Berry on the 14 who returned to the Bellvue 19 and then on the next play swept around left end in another of his spectacular smashes through the entire secondary for 81 yards and a touchdown. Notacker's attempt was good and Shelby led 14 to 6 at the half.

Bellevue scored its second tally when Art Long recovered a Shelby fumble on the Shelby 30-yard stripe to set up a 22-yard touchdown pass from Nasonti to Hickman. De Blase's attempt was wide.

That was the finish for the Redmen the Whippets snapped right back and on a 53-yard pass from Chuck Knapp to Utz who lateraled to Berry carried the ball from the Shelby 30 to the Bellvue 17 from where Fackler Berry and Moore teamed up driving to the five-yard stripe. In two power slants Berry scored standing up to put Shelby out in front 20 to 12. Notacker again kicked the extra point and made it 21 to 12.

INTERCEPTION HELPS

An intercepted pass by Clancy Fackler set up the last score for the Whippets. Snaring Nasonti's pass on the 50-yard line Fackler fought his way back to the Bellevue 29. John Moore and Berry carried for four and then Big Ross McFarland passed to Utz for 10 yards and a first down on the Bellevue 15 McFarland scored on two thrusts Notacker kicked the extra point.

Jack Notacker booted four straight extra points in last night's game to bring his total for the year to 15 out of 16 attempts

The light Shelby line and its sturdy linebackers played havoc with Bellevue's running plays smashing through to stop the plays before the plays could start.

from the tyger lair

The safety which spread the winning margin even wider stirred relatively little interest on the Massillon side

The deadly Tyger passing attack had already wrapped the ball game up in pink ribbon.

Any doubts as to the game being the top fracas on the state's grid menu were dispelled when official attendance figures were announced.

A total of 19-772 fans were on hand, setting a new record for Massillon's stadium this year.

A few die-hards argued that were 19,773 spectators, but the extra one was undoubtedly the same one who approached a News - Journal photographer after the game.

"Seen a '37 Chevvie?" he questioned.

"Nope."

"A black '37 Chevvie?"

"Nope."

"That's OK. I didn't want it anyhow, I'm driving a '39 Packard!"

The Tygers really
Laid 'em low,
With a driving line
And Tipper's toe!

Mansfield rooters had "Beat Massillon" signs tacked up all along the highway between the two towns, and the Tygers must have read the signs. They certainly took some of the glitter off Massillon's recent magazine and newspaper publicity.

There was no getting around the fact, however, that every time the Massillon eleven got hold of the ball anything could happen. They were a constant threat, right down to the final gun.

Even Massillon restaurants did their part, having "Welcome, Mansfield," tacked on their menus.

The result answered one question a number of cynical Mansfielders asked Thursday and Friday.

"What's the use of all the noise and placards," they growled.

Just the difference between being a champ and a chump, as the game proved. Massillon got off to a slow start in building pre - game spirit, starting late Wednesday. Mansfield went to work eight or nine days ago, boosting the Tygers to a do-or-die pitch which paid off.

Tygers Crush Massillon To Top Conference

meant a tie for the Massillon team.

But "Golden Boy" Tipper did not miss. The veteran guard has now booted nine straight extra points.

Many new offensive formations were used by the Tygers, showing the fruits of their week long secret drills. Several of the new plays made for big gains but stock plays accounted for the two scores.

FIRST QUARTER

Mansfield made one first down after the opening kickoff but Bob Busch was forced to punt. He booted 41 yards out of bounds on the Massillon 27. Dick Jacobs tried a sweep on the first play but fumbled and Walt Maurer recovered on the 26 Tommy Tucker swept to the 16-yard line and Jenkins pounded five yards on a trap from a spread formation Esker Jordan and Jenkins alternated to make a first down on the one and Jenkins vaulted over center for the score. Tipper converted. Mansfield 7, Massillon 0. It was the first time that Massillon was behind all year.

Then Massillon roared back into contention. Taking the kickoff on the 27 the Tigers, in ten plays, battled all the way to the Mansfield 11 as the quarter ended.

SECOND QUARTER

On the first play Irvin Crable scored on a pretty sweep He spun out of two Mansfield tacklers on the scoring play. Mansfield 7, Massillon 6.

Mansfield took the kickoff and marched 51 yards to the Massillon 28 but a couple of fumbles pushed them back to the 50 and Massillon took over. Crable made 16 on a sweep and Clarence Johnson bulled for 25, Mansfield tacklers dropping off like flies. Dick Jacobs then scored from the nine on a sweep. Mansfield 7, Massillon 12.

The teams filled the air with passes during the last five minutes of the half.

THIRD QUARTER

Massillon drove to the Mansfield 18 but lost the ball on downs The Tygers then cut loose on a drive of their own and pushed to the Massillon 46 with an 19 yard trap gain by Jenkins featuring the drive Tucker made 10 yards on the next play but Mansfield was penalized 15 yards for holding Bob Busch had to punt down to the Massillon 11 and Crable returned to the 25 Four plays later Crable broke loose on a 53-yard jaunt but this time Massillon was assessed 15 yards for clipping.

Jacobs punted out of bounds on the Mansfield 37 as the quarter ended.

FOURTH QUARTER

Tucker made one yard on a cross buck and Cline passed down the middle to Bargahiser for 22 yards. Jordan then cracked the line for three yards and Cline passed to Demyan for 15. Cline's ball handling and passing was a great thing as the ball was slippery and hard to hold.

Tucker gained seven yards in two tries to the 15. Cline faded for a pass but slipped on the wet turf. However, he straightened in time to hit Bargahiser with the deciding marker.

Massillon had trouble holding the ball and Maurer recovered one bobble near midfield. A few moments later Crable erred on a low Busch punt and Demyan recovered on the 14. A five-yard penalty stymied Mansfield but Jenkins drove 11 yards to the seven on fourth down.

Jacobs was trapped behind the goal line in trying to punt for a safety. Mansfield, 16, Massillon 12.

Massillon tried an on-side kick but the ball squirted away from the kicker and Mansfield took the ball on the 24 with 14 seconds to go Jenkins fell on the ball twice to end the game.

BELLVILLE—Scoring in every quarter, Mt. Gilead high school gridders spoiled Bellville's homecoming here last night by grabbing a 24-19 decision on a soggy field before 1,000 spectators. Jack Lancaster, Gilead fullback, scored a TD in each of the first three quarters to bring his season point total to 87.

Lancaster tallied on runs of 10, 40 and 45 yards while the final Gilead TD was registered by End Dale Meeker who snared a pass from Dale McClelland, quarterback, to erase the final 20 yards to the pay-off stripe.

Bill Balliet, Bellville halfback, counted in the second quarter with a 10-yard off-tackle sprint. Bob Hamilton, the other Bellville half, tallied in the third quarter with a 22-yard run. In the fourth quarter Bill Ridenous passed to Bill Balliet who raced 45 yards to score. Balliet plunged for the only extra point of the fracas.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Plymouth Pigskin Club Wins Second Of Sked, 19 To 12

CLYDE—Plymouth high school won its second football game of the season last night by defeating a host Clyde eleven, 19-12.

Three long runs paid off for the Pilgrims. Two screen passes from Larry Schreck to Dean Graibach covered 60 and 50 yards for the first two scores while Bob Schreck scampered 60 yards on a reverse for the final tally.

Hofelick scored both Clyde touchdowns on runs of 6 and 43 yards. Clyde scored on a 76-yard march the first time it got the ball and led 6-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Springfield Knocks Off Hamilton 11

(By International News Service)

Mansfield Tygers may spell their nickname peculiarly but there was nothing peculiar about their 16 to 12 victory over a more orthodox type of tigers last night.

Augie Morningstar's boys won the high school game of the night, if not the year, in upsetting the state's No. 1 ranking Massillon eleven, previously unbeaten.

The loss undoubtedly will knock Massillon from the no. 1 ranking given Chuck Mather's eleven by unanimous vote of sports writers and sports newscasters last week. Mansfield held sixth spot before last night.

But Massillon wasn't the only high-ranking schoolboy eleven in the state to meet up with a waterloo.

Fourth-ranking Hamilton was edged by Springfield 14 to 6, and seventh-place Findlay was upset by Marion Harding by a 39-to-20 count.

Massillon's downfall leaves another Stark county eleven in the favored position for this week's top rating. Canton McKinley Bulldogs, who meet Massillon in that traditional last-game of the season, all but annihilated Steubenville's big Red. The final adding-machine total showed the Bulldogs on top a 61 to 6 rout.

JUST NO SCORING

Toledo Waite, no. 8 in last week's ranking, couldn't score last night but neither could Toledo Devilbiss and as a result the Waite boys were victims of a minor upset in suffering a scoreless tie.

Fifth-ranking Lakewood had some trouble also but came out on top a 27 to 20 score in a game with Cleveland Collinwood.

Gust of Wind Gives Rockford 'Screwy' Score

CELINA — (AP) — A strong gust of wind gave nearby Rockford high school a touchdown last night in its football game with Coldwater.

It happened this way:

Coldwater's Floyd Hemmelgarn, standing on his own 15 yard line, punted into the wind. The ball sailed high into the air, almost straight up, and traveled only five yards or so down field. There the gust caught it and carried it back over Hemmelgarn's head and into the end zone, where center Bob Smith of Rockford fell on it for a touchdown.

Coldwater won, however, in a 25-12 upset.

Lima Junior Gallops To Five Touchdowns

LIMA — (AP) — The individual scoring record at Lima stadium was broken last night. Paul Porter, junior fullback for Lima South high school, sprinted to five, long-run touchdowns.

South defeated Monroe, 38 to 7. Porter scored his 30 points on runs of 49, 80, 99, 35 and 67 yards.

The visitors scored first when Halfback Herb Jones plunged the final foot and a half in the first quarter. Halfback Jerry Ball booted the extra point. Crestline came back in the initial quarter as Woods raced 70 yards to score after an off-tackle shoot.

Henrich Sad As Tigers Fall Before Tygers

By DON MILLER

One Massillon rooter went home from the ball game last night a little sadder than most—he had been accustomed to seeing champions in operation.

The fan was Tommy Henrich, member of the world champion New York Yankees, home from the baseball wars.

"I'm going to see a lot of football this fall," he declared before the game.

And he did, in his first game since returning home.

Henrich, who brok the hearts of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the last inning of the first World Series game this year by parking a home run for the only tally of the game, added that he intended doing nothing until March. "Then it's going to be getting ready for ball season," he said.

Massillon's contribution to organized baseball was kept busy signing autographs in the press box for the youngsters, and once again proved why he is so popular with the kids. He showed patience and willingness to talk with all those who came around during the game and almost wore out his arm dashing off his name.

When asked what he thought happened to the Cleveland Indians this past year, Henrich declared:

"Why, they didn't do too badly."

Then he grinned and added. "The same thing that was wrong with us. Their infield was just like our outfield—too old."

The slightly balding Henrich groaned as Mansfield pushed across the first touchdown, then devoted all his attention to spurring Massillon's Tigers to greater efforts.

Bruised State Game Favorite

MADISON, Wis. — (AP) — Although badly battered by Minnesota a week ago, Ohio State ruled a slight favorite today in its big 10 football game against surprising Wisconsin.

The Badgers will enter the contest in top shape and buoyed with a 48-13 rout of navy last week. The Buckeyes will be aiming for their second conference game in three starts. Wisconsin, after deadlocking Illinois 13-13, will be making its second bid in conference action.

A capacity crowd of 45,000 was expected.

Hill Has Trouble, Scores Only Three

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Harold (Sandy) Hill, Circleville high school's high-scoring halfback, increased his touchdown total for the season to 27 at nearby Grove city last night.

Hill made three touchdowns as undefeated Circleville won, 26 to 0. It was Circleville's (and Hill's) sixth game of the season.

Clipper Wants To Play Pair

NEW YORK — (INS) — Joe DiMaggio said today he and pitcher Joe Page of New York Yankees may play in two exhibition games in Honolulu if baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler gives his permission.

DiMag said he and Page plan to vacation in Hawaii for a week or two. They will fly to the islands next week.

The Yankee Clipper has always made it a policy not to play post-season games. He said if he took part in the Honolulu contests early next month, it would be as a favor to a friend on the island who is promoting the games.

Felton Scores Upset Victory

DETROIT — (AP) — Young Lester Felton, a comparative newcomer from Detroit, turned in an upset 10-round decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba last night before 13,187 fans at Olympia. Gavilan is currently the No. 1 contender for Sugar Ray Robinson's welterweight title.

The 20-year-old Felton, who used to be one of Gavilan's sparring partners, won his scrap by simply outrunning the harder-punching Gavilan and landing more punches while doing it.

It was a split decision.

Tyger Fans Stage Big Celebrations

By CHARLEY STINE

Regardless of what magazines or the big-city feature pages say, Football Town, U. S. A., was Mansfield—not Massillon—Ohio last night.

Mansfield shot the works, completely and thoroughly. The pre-game buildup and number of fans following the team was tremendous, the victory over Massillon was great, and the after-game celebration was something even Massillon never heard of.

Perhaps never had a high school football victory brought such complete happiness and satisfaction to so many. Senior High Coach Augie Morningstar was the personification of happiness as he went about hugging and kissing each ball-player, saying "You did it, you did it." Ten minutes after the game he was starting all over again and still with no less sincerity.

The usually padlocked Tyger dressing room was thrown wide open and everybody and his brother was there. Such former Senior high gridders as Joe Romana, Nick Weber, Lou Gregorio, Mike Gruber, and Harry Osbun of last year's team pounded each other on the back and shook hands with each member of the team.

It was the third time in 13 years that the Tygers had proved a spoiler for Massillon. Paul Brown ran into the first sang in 1937 when after winning 21 consecutive games, Mansfield came along to tie him, 7-7. In 1941, Massillon's longest victory string, 38 games, was halled by a 6-6 tie by the Tygers. There were no ties this time, however. The Senior high boys outplayed the Tigers all the way and had 'em hanging on the ropes at the end. Massillon had won ten straight.

From Morningstar down through the managers, "This is the happiest moment of my life," was the stock comment.

Asked who won the game for Mansfield, Augie said "Those 36 guys we had plus the sophomores. We needed their yelling too. With the enthusiasm the town displayed this week, we don't have any trouble winning."

CONDITIONING BIG THING

"Conditioning had a lot to do with it," Augie went on. "When we held them to 12-7 at the half, I knew we could go. But don't take anything from them. They've got a great ball club."

Assistant Coach Bill Peterson called it a "team victory along with the town. And don't forget to include the town part."

Over in the Massillon dressing room, scene of an almost monotonous weekly celebration, all was quiet. The players sat stunned, knowing that they would have to start all over again.

Coach Chuck Mather, who led the team to the state championship last year, did not try to alibi.

"They've got a great team," said Mather. "They deserved to win."

A voice piped up from the back of the dressing room saying that Mansfield got the breaks. Mather spiked that one quick with "You've got to make the breaks."

Perhaps one of the best stories of the victory was the reaction of the Mansfield stands immediately after the game. All 6,500 Mansfielders stood in their places for a full ten seconds, staring at the field and the scoreboard as if in disbelief. Then, suddenly and as one, all 6,500 tried to get on the field at the same time.

The entire team and coaching staff got a free piggy-back ride to the dressing room.

A. C. Jenkins, captain for the night, said "The boys played ball. They told me if they ever got ahead no one would catch them, and I know they meant it. Johnson and Crable are both good backs though. And they've got a great line and a great team. We had to play ball to beat them."

"Everybody behind us made the difference" was the opinion of Big Ed Demyan who was the defensive star. "The only time I was scared was when Massillon got away to that long run which was called back in the third quarter." Incidentally Demyan, who is regarded as "slow," caught Irvin Crable, Massillon's fastest, from behind on that play.

From the Tyger's Lair

By EL TYGRE

Mansfield's roaring Tygers broke a long famine last night as they knocked the props out from under Massillon's state championship claims.

In 1909 the Tygers first met the Tigers, and it's been a long dry spell since then. The closest the Mansfielders came to victory was three different ties, but there was no doubt about which was the better ball club last night.

Massillon fans, despite their football fever and pride in the hometown product, were quick to admit after the game that the big difference was Mansfield's charging line.

"Those guys outcharged our line all night long," one fan remarked, shaking his head. He echoed the talk which swept the press box after the game. Veteran sports writers and followers of the Massillon Tigers were loud in their praise of the Mansfield eleven.

Comments like "Smart quarterbacking," "What a line," and "They deserved to win" came from all sides. It's a lead pipe cinch the unsung heroes of the line will come in for plenty of recognition on the part of sports editors for last night's performance.

While on the subject of linesmen, Walter Maurer, Tyger center, turned in a brilliant defensive game, smearing Massillon runners throughout the game. He sparked the entire Mansfield defense in the first quarter, then ttled down into the steady kind of play which wins ball games But he had a lot of help from Big Ed Demyan, Tom Weaver and the other Mansfield linesmen.

The News - Journal set some kind of a record for rapid dissemination of news, tossing papers into the crowd bearing a big banner proudly proclaiming "Mansfield Tygers Upset Massillon."

Two seconds after the game ended, the papers were being circulated, and caused many chuckles on the Massillon side. Tommie Henrich wound up with a souvenir copy, one was passed through the stands, and the other ended up in the Mansfield dressing room where the boys read the pre-game story of the triumph. All that was missing from the story was the final score! Every other fact in the story came as predicted.

Surprisingly enough, good sportsmanship played a big part in the game despite the buildup given it in the past two weeks and the feeling between the two schools. Several times players helped opponents to their feet, and at one time Capt. A. C. Jenkins dove for a Massillon player after the whistle had blown, then walked several steps with him, apologizing for piling on in the heat of the game.

Massillon fans were stunned by the Tygers' first touchdown, roared out their approval when the home town lads came back with two straight touchdowns, then settled back into a dazed muttering when the Tygers ripped off the final touchdown and extra point in the 1st quarter.
